Yes, it's an amazing pen but that's just a bonus

Professional: When every word really does matter.

Imagine not having to carry your laptop to business meetings or out in the field. How about being able to collaborate on documents, designs and sketches in real time and in your own handwriting, without expensive software. Or get personal with an email signature that is actually yours. Whether you keep your notes in your own handwriting, or convert them to digital text, working becomes so much easier. Just think how nice it would be to never lose another important piece of information or brilliant idea. With IntelliPen PRO you can be that efficient—easily.

From lawyers in the courtroom, to students in lecture halls – this is the ideal working tool for anyone needing to record the information they receive. Writers can actually write instead of having to type, while doctors and nurses can record the care they are giving their patients. Creatives can get creative wherever they are inspired, while working out in the field no longer means having to re-type everything back in the office. And because it's so simple and familiar to use, it's the perfect gift for those weary of new technology.

Educational: A teaching and learning tool that makes a difference.

Perfect for the lecture hall, IntelliPen PRO allows you to take notes in your own handwriting, store them, and then transfer to your computer—without ever bringing your laptop to class. And if you are the one giving the lecture, you can use the IntelliPen PRO to create a digital chalkboard or smartboard. By beaming the onscreen view of a laptop utilizing an IntelliPen, teachers can screen and then save their lectures for future use and reference. Learning is enhanced for both students and teachers with IntelliPen Pro.

Time saving and enhanced efficiency

With IntelliPen PRO, professionals and students alike can annotate directly into MS Office applications such as PowerPoint, Word, and Excel. And with Vista and Win 7, IntelliPen Pro users can take advantage of even more unique and exciting digital handwriting resources. The built-in flash drive also allows users to store 1000's of handwritten pages, MP3's, picture files, presentations and more. And by converting handwritten notes to digital text, users will save time and energy that used to be spent re-typing all their notes.
